

MAKING THE BIG CIRCLE OF SEVEN COUNTIES IN 34 HOURS

Short Run on the Worst Road in America; A Glorious Ride Over the St. Helena Mountain

BY JOHN F. CONNERS.

Taking the big circle of seven counties in thirty-four hours without the slightest hindrance to mar the pleasure of the trip was an experience I enjoyed Sunday. Owners of motor cars who enjoy taking long trips covering counties containing beautiful scenery might gain a little experience by following me on what may be termed "making the big circle of seven counties in thirty-four hours."

Lost Near Petaluma

Leaving Sausalito at 2 o'clock Saturday afternoon in our Chalmers-Detroit 40, we planned to reach Cloverdale for dinner and night lodging. It is an easy and pleasant run from Sausalito to Cloverdale, a distance of 87 miles. We had been over this road several times and I never for an instant dreamed that one could get lost on the main road from Petaluma to Santa Rosa.

We learned, however, that in motor-ing through the country one meets with many strange experiences. We found out also that one can get very badly lost between Petaluma and Santa Rosa, for while we were journeying along I directed our motor-er to what we took to be the main road and in about a half hour we were bumping, jumping and wobbling on the worst road in America, and at the end of it we found ourselves at Sebastopol.

From Sebastopol to Santa Rosa the road is an excellent one and from Santa Rosa to Cloverdale one could not ask for a better gravelled highway.

The grapes are ripe and the autumn colors are at hand and therefore a ride among the vineyards is a most exhilarating one. The fields are just preparing to get ready for the brown October days and nature is beginning to put on her softest fall tones.

At Little Oakland

Arriving at our destination we went to "Little Oakland." To some people this may not be a very expressive term, but those who go to McWayne's place for their summer enjoyment will understand what "Little Oakland" means.

Sunday morning we were up at 7 o'clock, breakfasted and were ready to start by 9, our machine having been prepared for a big run. We toured a little around Cloverdale, securing our full quota of gasoline, and closing up our mileage for that distance at 105 miles. So we started from Cloverdale with a clean ledger to complete the big swing of seven counties. Our first run was to Petaluma, then over the Peta grade and into Lakeport, where, upon recommendation of our friend Oscar Luning, we took luncheon at the Benvenue, a summer resort on the borders of Clear Lake. At 1 o'clock we were ready to leave Lakeport for a straight run over the mountains to Vallejo, a distance of 55 miles. Our itinerary was as follows:

Lakeport, Kelseyville, Adams Springs, Adams road, Middle Town, Mira, Callistoga, St. Helena, Ruth-erford, Napa, Vallejo.

Danger in Mountains

The ride over the mountain passes was an exceedingly dusty one and as a result taxed the machinery of our motor car to the utmost. From Kelseyville over the mountains it was one long, strong pull, with dust in some places two feet deep and hundreds of sharp turns to encounter. The ride through the pine forests was not as pleasant as it would be in the state.

believed all he said.

Long Wait for a Boat

We arrived at Callistoga in splendid time and had a glorious run, over a perfect road, down the Napa valley to Vallejo, arriving at the latter place at 6 p.m., having covered a distance of 102 miles during the day, or a total for the trip of 237 miles.

It is sad to relate that we had to wait two hours and a half for a boat at Vallejo, not being able to move until 8:30, when we took the General Frisbie on the Monticello line for San Francisco, making connections with the 10 o'clock broad-gauge boat for Oakland, arriving home at ten minutes to 12.

These are the counties through which we passed or touched and which I include in the big circle: San Francisco, Marin, Sonoma, Mendocino, Lake, Napa, Solano.

Although we had to contend with quantities of dust, we were nevertheless much refreshed by a splendid outing in the mountains. It is an excellent tonic for a busy business man. Not one stop was made because of any defect in the motor car.

CAVALIERI TAKES FIRST STEP TO GET FORTUNE

Ante-Nuptial Contract, Won With Kisses, Arrives in America.

BROTHER GIVES SISTER'S SIDE OF FAMOUS CASE

Siren Agitated Over Stories About Her Printed in This Country.

NEW YORK, Sept. 13.—Miss Lina Cavalieri-Chandler has taken the first steps toward collecting from Robert Winthrop Chandler, her husband, his inheritance. The now famous ante-nuptial contract has arrived in this country and lawyers have been retained to get hold of the money for the opera singer.

The document has been delivered to Lawyer King and Osborne and is now being put up in their safe. It was delivered to them by Orestes Cavalieri, brother of the contralto. She has agreed to meet him and her kisses warm upon his lips, he quelled the love-maddened "Sheriff" Bol into telling his birthright for the monetary caresses.

SIGNED BY CHANDLER.

Lawyer Osborne showed the ante-nuptial transfer to a reporter yesterday. The document is signed by Chandler and is witnessed by several persons. Osborne held it up only long enough for the reporter to make sure that it was the document which caused all the trouble. Then he put it back into the safe saying that he would not make known its contents until it was offered for record and until the Cavalieri interests were ready to proceed in the effort to collect the income from the Chandler trust funds.

GIVES SINGER'S VERSION.

Cavalieri's brother yesterday issued a lengthy statement giving the singer's version of Chandler's conveyance of property to her, in which he asserts that it was but the usual pre-nuptial settlement made by affianced husbands to their intended wives.

"There was a conference of the Chandler family yesterday. Robert told his wife of his plan, but was given to understand that the family would not agree to his conveyance of property to Cavalieri.

CAVALIERI IS AGITATED.

IARIS, Sept. 13.—Cavalieri is agitated over stories printed in the American newspapers.

"Mr. Chandler is coming back here before the time he lives," she declared, "and I can join him sooner or later, and I probably will do so, as I have no engagement in New York."

This declaration may be the prelude to divorce and alimony on the ground of abandonment, although she denies she contemplates a divorce.

Cavalieri denies the report that she has stopped her marriage with Prince Kirgowski. She said that the prince had proposed to her, but she declined him.

IN FALSE LIGHT.

Oreste Cavalieri's statement is as follows:

"The recent newspaper reports concerning the affairs of my sister, Mrs. Chandler, formerly Miss Cavalieri, and her husband, Robert W. Chandler, seem to have been designed to place my sister in a wholly false light before the public."

"Before his marriage Mr. Chandler agreed to make some provision for my sister and my wife, the usual arrangement by which a widow is given an income for her support and a percentage of real estate. The couplings in these properties are very small, and their value, by reason of encumbrances, is problematical. The income provided for my sister is in the same position, and a doubtful if any money will be available for her use. If any income is paid it will be required to pay necessary expenses in caring for the real estate."

PREPARED IN PARIS.

"The marriage settlement was prepared in Paris, witnessed by the American consul and given to my sister by Mr. Chandler."

"The sensational stories which have been given much prominence of late are untrue, and I wish to deny them emphatically. My sister is recovering from severe illness which has compelled her to remain in France, and Mr. Chandler, because of his business engagements, has been obliged to come to this country."

"When my sister is able to travel, she will join him here. The entire story is nothing more than an attempt to make a sensational story out of an everyday and commonplace occurrence, which concerns no one but Mrs. Chandler and her husband."

RALLY DAY PLANNED BY OAKLAND CHURCH

The Twenty-third Avenue Baptist Church, Oakland, will have a rally day for young people, Sunday, September 18. Pastor C. E. Maxfield will preach at 11 a.m., a sermon devoted to the interests of the B. Y. P. U.

In the evening a special program has been prepared and decorations will be made for union service of Christian Endeavor, Epworth League and E. Y. P. U. societies.

Addressess will be made as follows:

Mr. J. W. Hatch, San Francisco, "Plans, Possibilities, Purposes"; Miss Florence Bradley, Oakland, "Power, Push, Penetration"; Mr. Charles Cadman, Alameda, "Personality, Persuasion, Piety."

The Russian Baptist Church choir of San Francisco of ten members, will sing in Russian to American ears. This will be the first time that members of that nationality have been heard in chorus in an American church in the United States, and will make the service unique, as well as impressive.

CONFESSES HE COINED THOUSANDS OF "NICKELS"

UTICA, N. Y., Sept. 13.—Confessing that he has coined many thousand spurious 5-cent pieces, a man giving his name as George Corrigan of Columbus, Ohio, is lodged in the local jail, in charge of police police men. He was arrested at Cooperstown.

Corrigan lived on the shore of Otsego lake all the summer in a little hut, posing as a camper. His place was raided by government agents and found to contain dies, a hand press, metal and a quantity of newly made nickels. He admitted he had been doing the work himself and said he was getting ready to make quarter dollars.

These are the counties through which we passed or touched and which I include in the big circle: San Francisco, Marin, Sonoma, Mendocino, Lake, Napa, Solano.

Although we had to contend with quantities of dust, we were nevertheless much refreshed by a splendid outing in the mountains. It is an excellent tonic for a busy business man. Not one stop was made because of any defect in the motor car.

TONG WAR BREAKS OUT IN SAN JOSE

Hop Sing Hatchet Man Fired Upon by Five Suey Sing Fighters.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 13.—The war between the Hop Sing and Suey Sing Chinese tongs, which began here after the recent investigation into Chinatown gambling, has been extended to San Jose, and early yesterday morning two Suey Sing men fired a volley at a Hop Sing hatchet man of San Jose. Two bullets punctured the Hop Sing man's hat and blouse, but he was not wounded. The five escaped.

The San Jose fight was in progress at about the time the Suey Sing were ambushed here by the Hop Sing, as a result of the latter fight two Suey Sing went to the hospital, and one probably will die.

Last evening representatives of the six companies met in San Jose and settled the trouble. They went to Oakland after the truce was declared, and it is not known what concessions were made by the rival tong.

The police department believes that the feud in the local Chinatown will be of long duration. The department points out that this is the first time in the history of the Suey Sing tong that the Hop Sing have not been veterans in a war.

THREE IN HOSPITAL.

Three Suey Sing men are now in the hospital suffering from gunshot wounds, while only one of the Hop Sing men has been injured.

Both the Hop Sing and the Suey Sing are declared by the police to be the most dangerous societies in Chinatown.

According to the police, many Chinese families have moved from their quarters in this city to Oakland in account of the war that is raging in Chinatown. In the Chinese quarter it is said that more tongs will be drawn into the fray.

Members of both the Hop Sing and the Suey Sing are in hiding and do not appear on the streets of Chinatown unless accompanied by a body guard.

Ralph L. Hathorn and Charles H. Forbes, who but for their refusal had the backing of two-thirds of the members of the new committee for chairman and secretary, respectively, passed the place of highest honor to others, refusing to themselves the posts of more arduous service. This was no contest, however, as the new committee was accomplished through the adoption of a single resolution. That resolution recognized the representatives of all of the old factions united in the new committee for the Republican ticket.

INDEPENDENT PARTY MEN.

Fred Sanborn, chairman of the county committee, is one of the foremost Republicans in the Bay Area. In 1909 he was prominently identified with the municipal league of independent Republican clubs and the campaign of the nomination of Byron F. P. Farnsworth for mayor.

Ralph L. Hathorn, chairman of the organization committee, is one of the veterans of the municipal campaign of 1907. He will be

CITY HALL SITE UP TO COMMITTEE

Five Propositions for Temporary Structures Considered by Supervisors.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 13.—At a meeting of the public buildings committee of the supervisors yesterday five city hall propositions came up for consideration.

The committee recommended for acceptance the proposition of the Lincoln Realty company and L. P. Lankersmith to erect a building at 15th and Jessie streets and to lease the same to the city for $500 a month for six years.

This proposition, however, is not strongly supported in the belief it is a whole

Brady-Sturges. The offer to erect a temporary city hall building on the old city hall site in such a manner that it may finally be made a part of the permanent structure, the building to become the property of the city at the expiration of six years. In the meantime the city is to pay $2000 a month rent. It is estimated that the building will cost $225,000, and will furnish 120,000 square feet of space.

The Land Title company has an offer to erect a seven-story reinforced concrete building, furnishing 125,000 square feet of space on the old Mechanics' pavilion lot at Grove and Larkins streets, the city to pay $1250 a month for five years.

The De Lisle Realty company offers to erect a $260,000 building on the northwest corner of Eighth and Mission streets containing 11,000 square feet of space and to rent the structure to the city for $6000 a month for six years.

George Skolnik, representative of Harland Law, renewed the latter's offer to restore the nine story Alhambra building and lease the same to the city at $500 a month, offering to cut the lease period down from five years to three and a half and to allow the city to continue leasing the building thereafter on a virtual month-to-month tenure until permanent quarters shall have been secured.

LIQUOR TRAFFIC STARTS DISPUTE

Freeholders Adjourn Before Matter is Settled at Last Night's Session.

The board of freeholders made no progress last night's meeting in the matter of framing a charter. An attempt to inject into the tentative instrument a section providing for the regulation of liquor traffic excited an immediate discussion which was brought to a close without results by a motion to adjourn, which carried. Before the liquor question was brought up the board adopted resolutions extending to Dr. George C. Pardee, chairman of the board, and to Mrs. Pardee, the deep sympathy of the members of the board on the occasion of the recent tragic death of Miss Florence Pardee, the eldest daughter of the former governor.

SPRINGS QUESTION.
Freeholder Daly then sprung the question of framing a section regulating the liquor traffic and favored taking affirmative action by incorporating it in the tentative charter. Acting Mayor Mitchell has ordered that extraordinary police precautions be taken.

"I wish to have a committee appointed," he added, "which shall draw up some kind of a provision to be included in the new charter, if it be approved by the board, and that shall make some provision for the regulation of the liquor traffic."

OPPOSES SUGGESTION.
Freeholder A. H. Elliott vigorously opposed Daly's suggestion, holding that the action of the board to adjourn in the new charter would tend to arouse a strong opposition and might result in the final defeat of the charter.

"I do not propose to favor the liquor traffic or the opponents of the liquor traffic," said Elliott, "and I believe that the latter will be best served if this feature of the case is allowed to remain in the background until the new charter is adopted with its initiative provisions. Then it will be an easy matter to instigate a committee for the approval of the people any law that may be suggested for the regulation of the liquor business."

A motion to adjourn cut off debate and was carried.

VIGOROUS FIGHT AT PRIMARIES IN GOTHAM

Battle Waged Against Woodruff in Brooklyn; Police Take Means to Prevent Trouble

NEW YORK, Sept. 13.—This is primary election day in New York City, enrolled voters of both Republicans and Democratic parties choosing their delegates to the state and various other party conventions and electing members of the county committee.

In most chiefly centers in the Republican primaries because of the pending contest between the "old guard" and "progressive" factions in the state, the latter backed by Col. Roosevelt, for control of the state convention.

The polls opened at 3 p. m. and will close at 8 p. m.

In Brooklyn a vigorous fight is being waged in several districts against State Chairman Woodruff, who is also leader of Kings county, and is allied with the "old guard" in upstate territory.

Tammany contests in the primaries are over district leaderships. In expectation of trouble in districts in which close contests are looked for, Acting Mayor Mitchell has ordered that extraordinary police precautions be taken.

"I do not propose to take a stand in this matter, and I don't think we should sidestep it," he exclaimed.

"I wish to have a committee appointed," he added, "which shall draw up some kind of a provision to be included in the new charter, if it be approved by the board, and that shall make some provision for the regulation of the liquor traffic."

CARELESS.
"So—Yes, miss, we had an awful storm here last week. That lighthouse yonder was washed away except for a few blocks of stone."

Miss—Dear me! Whatever did they build it in such an exposed position for? Tip-Top.

MISS PARDEE'S FUNERAL TO BE HELD FROM LATE RESIDENCE TOMORROW

Rev. Charles R. Brown to Conduct Services; Other Victims of Auto Accident Are Resting Well

The funeral of Miss Florence Pardee, daughter of former Governor and Mrs. George C. Pardee, who was instantly killed in an automobile accident Sunday, will be held from the Pardee residence, 672 Eleventh street, tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock.

Rev. Charles R. Brown, pastor of the First Congregational church, will conduct the services. He will be assisted by Rev. J. K. McLean, president of the Pacific Theological Seminary of Berkeley, for many years a close friend of the family. Interment will be at Mountain View cemetery and will be private.

The pallbearers will be Dr. Lloyd Craig, Wesley Craig, Dr. Horner Craig, Frank Edoff, Robert Ralph, and Arthur Elston.

SUFFERS FROM SHOCK.

Upon inquiry at the home of Miss Anita Thomson at 107 Thirteenth street, who, together with Mrs. H. J. Smith, son, Hermann J. Sadler, and William B. Smith, 19, a member of the automobile party with Miss Pardee, it was learned that the young society girl was still suffering from the shock of the accident and the severity of her bruises.

Although she has had but little sleep since the accident, Miss Thomson, who, having been pinned under the car, was injured than was at first supposed, is resting easily today. Dr. Charles H. Howe, the attending physician, states that Miss Thomson will soon be released.

VICTIM GETTING BETTER.
Relatives at the Sadler home at 968 Eighteenth street stated today that Mrs. Sadler is getting along nicely, although it will be a month or more before she will be able to walk, owing to the injury to her right leg. Dr. Chapman, her attending physician, states that the member is not paralyzed, as was at first supposed, although it is very badly bruised.

Sadler, who was slightly injured in the accident, and those of their household an expression of their sincere sympathy in their great bereavement. "We are particularly sensible of the suddenness and the poignancy of their grief, as the sad tidings were brought to them by white Dr. Pardee was returning with his wife from a commission of this Chamber of Commerce as delegate to the Conservative Congress at St. Paul, Minn., and we deeply deplore the cause of this sad homecoming from the discharge of a high civic duty.

"In token of our sympathy, it is ordered that the Chamber of Commerce be represented during the hours of the funeral of Miss Pardee, and that a copy of these sentiments be spread upon the records of the proceedings of the board of directors of the Chamber of Commerce."

The Democratic Sweep in Maine.

The Democratic victory in Maine is the logical result of insurrection and division in the Republican ranks. It is ominous of Republican disaster in November unless Republicans cease to wage internecine conflicts and line up solidly against the common enemy.

Apathy in the Republican ranks cannot be urged as an excuse for the Democratic sweep in Maine. The vote was an unusually full one. The State had been thoroughly canvassed and both State and National issues threshed out by both sides on the stump. The Democratic vote is the largest in the history of the State, while the Republican vote was only 5000 less than the vote cast for Governor Pernaud two years ago.

In Vermont the shrinkage in the Republican majority was largely due to Republicans staying at home. It rained on election day. The Democrats only made a gain of eight per cent, whereas the Republicans lost twenty per cent. And the total poll was light.

The case was entirely different in Maine. The weather was fine and a big vote was polled. The Democrats gained twenty per cent, while the Republicans lost between eight and ten per cent. Not does the personal popularity of the Governor-elect, Frederick W. Plaisted, explain the result. Not only was the whole Bourbon State ticket elected, but the Democrats elected two of the four Congressmen and came within an ace of carrying the other two districts. If they have not captured the Legislature they came very close to it.

If the Democratic victory is not complete the Republicans suffered a reverse all along the line. The same percentage of loss and gain exhibited in Vermont and Maine will turn the other New England States over to the Democrats.

In Arizona the Democrats gained a victory as complete, if not as important, as the one they won in Maine. In the vote for delegates to the Constitutional convention they swept the Territory, carrying hitherto strong Republican counties.

The cause of Republican defeat is not far to seek. For a year past a large section of the Republican press has been educating their readers in the belief that the Republican party is corruptly controlled and has betrayed the people. When men get this idea fixed in their minds they go over to the Democratic opposition; they do not stop at half way houses or trust a Republican minority to carry out the changes they desire. Hence the Democratic wave that is now sweeping strongly in the east threatens to engulf both insurgents and regulars. After furnishing the voters with reasons for voting the Democratic ticket the insurgents cannot stop them from doing so.

Plea Revived for a Battleship Fleet.

"Fighting Bob" Evans has revived the plea for adequate naval protection for the Pacific Coast by permanently stationing in its waters an efficient fleet of at least sixteen battleships and all that goes with them as an imperative necessity for the safeguarding of the interests of our people. When the doughty admiral, who is now on the retired list, entered the Golden Gate at the head of a fleet of sixteen battleships and an auxiliary squadron of destroyers and torpedo boats, the question of providing the Pacific Coast with a fleet of battleships at least equal in strength to that stationed off the Atlantic Coast was a leading topic of discussion. But the battleships sailed from these shores to return by the western route to the Atlantic Coast, where they are not needed and this inadequately fortified coast has since been compelled to content itself with the protection which an inferior naval force of eight armored cruisers can give it. And yet here is an exposed coast line equal in length to that of the Atlantic seaboard and which, although it has a comparatively small population, is behind it infinite natural wealth and resources open to the invasion and seizure by any naval power with which we may at any time become involved in war.

"Fighting Bob" has the correct idea of the protective wants of the Pacific Coast. He has recently had an opportunity of personally studying some of the special resources of this State and has marveled at their value and importance, not only as a local resource, but as a great national asset, in the proper protection of which the whole nation is directly interested. Admiral Evans also realizes how incompetent the Pacific Coast land defenses are to resist invasion unsupported by a powerful fleet of battleships.

Every exposed point on the Atlantic seaboard is amply protected by land fortifications of great strength. That coast is not menaced by any foreign power. But nine-tenths of the naval forces of the nation are assembled there, although not as necessary there as the assignment of a strong fleet is on this coast. In fact, the most arduous duties of the American warships on the Atlantic seaboard are of strictly spectacular order and half the time most of the ships swing idly to their moorings within easy reach of the scene of aristocratic social activities in which their officers have multitudinous opportunities of displaying their gold braided uniforms and devoting their energies to social conquests rather than to the more serious purposes for which warships are built and equipped. There are fewer opportunities for social gaieties on the Pacific Coast, it is true, but there is a broader field for earnest naval work than exists on the eastern coast.

Tong Wars and Their Remedies.

The foundation has been laid within the past few days for another of those tong wars which periodically break out among the Chinese population of the State, disturbing its peace, resulting in the shedding of human blood and making a laughing stock of our laws and the administration of justice. The tong war now pending has started, as nearly all of them have started in the past, in the Chinese quarters in San Francisco. The deadly feud begun in that city has been carried to Oakland and Sacramento and is liable to involve all other cities in the State where Chinese colonies have been established.

California has put up with these tong wars for nearly sixty years. They have multiplied simply because the State has not properly exercised its authority. The organization and maintenance of tongs have been tolerated, although the police authorities of every community in the State know that they are not created and maintained for lawful purposes and that their members are professional assassins and blackmailers banded together for the accomplishment of common ends in which respect for the laws of the land in which they live cuts absolutely no figure. When their feuds run afoul of established law then their own tribunal—an imperium in imperio—sets in, settles the tong differences and the murders for which they are responsible on a strictly monetary basis and protects those whose hands have been stained in blood from the consequences of their crimes. Justice, as administered by the regularly constituted courts of the land, is in a mockery and defeated, and temporary peace reigns only until such time as a new cause for trouble arises, when history repeats itself.

That the tongs and their officers, headquarters and the personnel of their membership are known to the police authorities of every community harboring a Chinese colony, is a well-established fact. When a victim of a tong feud falls the mistake made is to hold only such persons as actually committed the crime. Tong wars will never be suppressed until means are provided to hold the entire tong responsible for the crime committed in its name, for no tong war was ever started in this State that was not countenanced by the tong and approved by its officers. If the laws are not broad enough to apply to the whole organization they should be made to apply in cases where crimes are committed in the name of the tong and for the accomplishment of the tong's ends. As the tongs now exist every member of a tong is accessory to the murder of the member of any rival tong. The organization of tongs should be absolutely prohibited under the severest penalties and membership in a tong should be made a lawful cause for deportation. Criminal organizations can only be suppressed by drastic laws. Present laws provide no remedy and are, therefore, ineffective.

Agencies Working for Consolidation.

No matter what may be the outcome of the coming Berkeley consolidation election, other agents than the ballots are, if slowly, quite as surely welding the links in the chain of mutual interests which will ultimately bind the cities located on the eastern shore of the bay front and including Point Richmond to San Leandro, into one harmonious community.

Industrial development, the growth of population, occupation and improvement of adjoining residential areas, interchange of the use by neighboring municipalities of public utilities and the expansion of interurban rapid transit lines, are all uniting to obliterate boundary lines and blend these east bay shore cities into one consolidated municipality.

Along the Oakland-Berkeley line private residence lots are now subject to the jurisdiction of the two cities. Piedmont is using some of Oakland's public utilities by friendly sufferance. The town authorities of Emeryville and Oakland Board of Fire Commissioners have entered into a joint arrangement for a combination of fire department forces for mutual protection. The Oakland Fire Department has previously aided Alameda to extinguish fires and protect property in the warehouse district on the south side of the estuary. And the extensions which the various corporations engaged in interurban transportation for the mutual welfare of the various independent communities, are aiding materially in welding them together. All of these agencies are irresistible forces, pointing to one unavoidable result—namely, consolidation under one general form of government.

The co-operation of the Park and Playgrounds Commission in the development and adaptation of the park grounds for utilization as well as ornamental purposes gives promise of producing the best general results and is worthy of popular commendation. The latest development in this respect is the laying out of a bowling green in Lakeside Park, near the McElroy memorial fountain. The fountain is to be erected under the jurisdiction of the Park Commission. The green is being laid out under the direction of the Playgrounds Commission. It is a happy combination of the ornamental and utilitarian park features.

Oakland has just reason to be proud of its salt water fire auxiliary plant which received the highest commendations of the fire chiefs of other cities in the State who witnessed a display of its workings after the close of the Native Sons' festivities last week. It is the only municipal salt water fire protection plant installed on this side of the continent and is a creditable monument to Oakland's progressiveness. The nearest approach to it is the San Francisco municipal tug service recently put into operation for the protection of shipping on its water front.

In the charter tentatively adopted by the Board of Freeholders the use of voting machines at all elections has been incorporated. Per contra: the Sacramento county Supervisors have decided to discard voting machines at the coming fall election and rely upon the Australian ballot system on the score of economy and convenience.

Maine went half bent sure enough. But it will the Lincoln-Roosevelt League organs rejoice over the Democratic victory in the Pine Tree State with the same undisguised glee that they manifested over previous Republican reverses?

Next Sunday the Southern Pacific Company will begin the operation of a new interurban railroad service between Point Richmond and Oakland which may be regarded as another bond working toward the union of the east bay shore cities.

FOUNTAIN OF YOUTH

The fountain of youth—bathing won't for all I am worth to mix forcibly the derelict of the ages—sought for by scientists and experts since the world began, is at last claimed to have been discovered by David P. Shaw, an octogenarian marvel of youth of Atletaborn, Mass.

Mr. Shaw says that he has found the life renewing fountain. He says also that everyone can profit by it and keep going.

His life was despaired of by doctors some time ago.

Now he is accounted a wonder of health, vigor and youth. He can ride off from fifty to seventy-five miles on a bicycle at any time.

He performs feats of strength that amaze all who know him.

This is all due to his precious fountain, he asserts.

This fountain consists of an amount of good drinking water, some salt brine, a common three dollar spray pump, a large tub to stand in, and ordinary wash-bowl and pitcher and a two-gallon stone pot or crock. Nothing else is necessary save to make the fountain perform its health-restoring properties.

Thus Mr. Shaw explains its workings. "I pour three quarts of water into the jar and then put in the pump and work

CAUSE OF FOREST FIRES

On the authority of the Springfield (Mass.) Republic we have it that "after rounding up the dealers in potatoes, butter, cloth and such necessities of life, who have been cheating the public by short weight or adulteration, the New York authorities are getting after the jewelers who sell plated stuff as gold or silver. In England, says the commissioner of weights and measures, 'sterling silver' and the 'karat' mark are almost as sacred as the crown seal. But in New York dealers stamp '14 kt.' on jewelry, which has merely been subjected to the cheapest kind of gold dip."

Come to think about it, why shouldn't the jeweler be required under pain of the name of the brand implies.

heavy penalty to furnish the kind of goods that the stamp proclaims? In fact, it wouldn't be a bad idea if all merchants had to come up to the claims set forth by the merchant in offering it for sale. It would protect the purchaser, than whom nobody is more entitled to protection. He belongs to the big majority, pays the freight and furnishes the wherewithal for making the wheels go round. There is a whole lot of shoddy stuff sold over the counters these days.

From potted chicken to potted diamonds, about the only way to remedy this state of affairs is for the state to step in and demand that the goods shall be all that the name on the brand implies.

20 YEARS AGO IN OAKLAND

As soon as John W. Tompkins heard results in the primaries in the Third and Fifth Wards last Saturday night, he filed a petition for election as a candidate for the office of sheriff. Louis Gottshall will be a candidate for this position, assured of the support of the thirty delegates from Oakland township.

N. W. Letell has announced himself as a candidate for coroner.

The Republican convention will assemble in Grinnell Hall tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock for the purpose of placing in nomination candidates for county offices. In the district conventions the delegates will nominate candidates for senators from the Sixteenth and Eighteenth districts.

Fred M. Campbell will go into the contest with an earnest following for the position of county superintendent of schools.

The Murray township delegates will be in the parlors of William Kent Jr. and Newlands House. They are for Schaefer for sheriff.

M. C. Chapman says that he has been promised sufficient support to elect him chairman of the convention, but that he has declined on the ground that he desires to remain on the floor and work for his friends.

Judge Greene's renomination for judge of the Superior Court seems to be on the cards as anything political can be.

In an address to Native Sons and Daughters of the Golden West, Rev. Dr. C. McLean says: "You must have something more to travel on than fornication, nativity, although it is good to start off with. I approve of the order for the reason that I see in it very mighty possibilities of good to our State, our country, our young men and women, who compose the order. I greatly approve of such an order provided that it is guided right."

James Miller, the East Oakland pottery man, is leading a sloop with eight sewer pipes for county clerk.

R. B. S. York is making an active canvass for assemblyman from the Fifteenth district, which includes the Second and Third Wards.

Says E. C. Chapman: "The Third Ward delegation will oppose George W. Reed for district attorney. We will have a man appeal to him in the field to name. I am not at liberty to mention his name. It will all be settled this evening. Of course, if all combinations do not come off, Mr. Reed's opponent will be shown under."

Mr. Jaeger says that the Eden township delegation, which will caucus in the afternoon, is practically solid for George W. Reed for county superintendent of schools, and David Martin for supervisor.

The Washington townships are a unit for Jim Stanley for public administrator.

The Murray township delegates will be in the parlors of William Kent Jr. and Newlands House. They are for Schaefer for sheriff.

A. C. Henry says that under no circumstances will he be a candidate for sheriff as against Socrates Hilt.

A WORD TO MOTHERS
DOES YOUR DAUGHTER NEED MORE STRENGTH?

This Tonic Treatment Solves One of the Most Puzzling Problems for Parents of Girls in Their Teens.

A growing girl who is confined within doors too much of the time, who overworks, overeats or is depressed by worry or care, needs the tonic treatment if she would avoid injury to her health which will mar her whole life.

In addition to a proper tonic the patient should have nourishing and easily digested food, pure air and sunshine, rest and sleep. Parents whose daughters grow debilitated as they enter their teens should not watch them fade and drop but should ensure their healthful womanhood by the treatment which is endorsed in the following statement from Miss Frances R. Roche, of No. 1226 E. Evans avenue, Pueblo, Colo. Miss Roche says:

"I suffered from weakness for nearly a year when I was changing from girlhood to womanhood. I became all run down in health and had but very little blood. I did not have any strength and could hardly drag around. There seemed to be no life in me. Every month I passed through intense suffering. I had dizzy and vomiting spells and constant headaches. I was obliged to give up my work for time.

"I took medicine from a doctor but without relief. Through a friend's advice I gave Dr. William Pink Pills a trial and was completely cured. I am well now and have had no return of my trouble. My mother has since used the pills as a tonic and thinks as highly of them as I do.

Dr. William's Pink Pills are guaranteed to be safe and harmless to the most delicate constitution. They contain no morphine, opiate, narcotic, or anything to cause a drug habit. Owing to their blood-building property they are invaluable in the treatment of such diseases as anemia, green sickness, rheumatism, and the after-effects of fevers.

A new edition of our booklet, "Diseases of the Blood," giving more information about the treatment, will be sent free on request to anyone interested.

Dr. William's Pink Pills are sold by all druggists. Will be sent, postage on receipt of price, 50 cents per box; six boxes for $2.50, by the Dr. William's Medicine Company, Schenectady, N. Y.

CENTRAL EVENING HIGH SCHOOL CROWDED

Thirty-Five Boys and Girls Enroll for Work, Setting Record.

Splendid work is being accomplished in the Central Evening High School, where thirty-five boys and girls, the majority of whom are employed during the day and who are desirous of becoming enlightened in the different subjects of study. This year the enrollment in the high school class exceeds that of the past year. This is encouraging to the teacher in charge, H. L. Hagan.

Hagan's English literature, algebra, geometry, Latin and French are being taught in the high school by Hagan, who has won recognition for his excellent deportment and results which he obtains from his pupils. He has been complimented for his work by teachers of the outside schools as well as members of the local Board of Education.

The high school class commences at 7.15 in the evening and is excused at 9.15. During these two hours Hagan is giving instructions in six studies, which require much attention on his part.

COLLEGE GRADUATE.

Hagan graduated from the University of California in 1906, and was considered one of the most brilliant students in the class. At college he distinguished himself in the branches of study which he taught in the Central Evening High School. He was appointed by the Board of Education to succeed Jessie Dibert, who took a leave of absence to make a trip East. Dibert has returned from his Easter tour and it is not known definitely whether he will return to the class or not.

Chinese Students Visit University

BERKELEY, Sept. 13—Seventy-two Chinese students who are in this country at the expense of their government to study the conditions here and the methods of government, were visitors at the University of California yesterday afternoon.

The students visited the Chinese Students' Club at the university and also visited various points of interest on the campus.

In honor of the visitors a meeting was held in Stiles hall, where M. Yu, general secretary of the Chinese Y. M. C. A., delivered a short address. He said:

"The Chinese of the United States have been greatly pleased to greet the students from our native land who have come here for the purpose of bettering and improving themselves as well as their country.

"The journeys of natives of one land to other points of the globe serve to cement more firmly the bonds of peace that are now existing. In this way the Chinese are strengthened and the citizens of the United States are as greatly pleased with the visit as are we of the same race."

With the party on the trip are Chang Woo and Kai Chi Chow, former students at the university, who returned to China this spring to compete in examinations, and are now returning to finish their education.

Boy Risks Life to Save School Children

MELROSE, Sept. 12—Archie Hamel, a boy of Melrose, risked his life to save a crowd of school children from being run over and probably killed by a team of horses which had run away down East Fourteenth street late yesterday afternoon. The team, which belonged to P. M. Hold, was standing in front of the Southern Pacific station, when they became frightened by a passing automobile and started in a wild dash down the main street, Hamel, who has a stand on the corner of East Fourteenth street and Jones avenue, seeing the peril in which the children had been placed, rushed into the street and grabbed the reins of the nearest animal. Spectators watched breathlessly to see him trampled to death beneath the iron-bound hoofs, but he hung on, despite their racing and plunging until he finally brought them to a stop, three blocks away from where they started.

After he brought them to a standstill, Hamel calmly mounted the driver's seat and brought them back to the owner and went about his business as if the occurrence was an every-day affair.

HOW THE PARTRIDGE SAVED HER YOUNG.

(By Florence Hahnzinger, 13 years old.)

Down the wooded slope, the mother partridge led her brood toward the crystal brook for the first time to drink. The brook was shaded by overhanging trees, which nearly met as they descended over the beautiful stream, and here the mother partridge left her young, while she went in search of food.

As the mother flew through the green trees she could hear the crack of a gun not far off. Whoever was shooting it was between her and her young. She started to run away, but realized that it was useless to go that way, because she would meet the hunter before she could reach her little ones.

She was now quite distracted as to which way to fly; but when she thought of her little ones alone in the brook she seemed to become quieted and used as much caution as she would have in a time of quiet. She flew away and came to a stop under some leaves and hid. She was busy holding around in another direction from the one in which she was and so did not see the leaves move. Then the mother partridge skinned in a great circle and came back by a roundabout way to the little fuzz balls she had left hidden in the woods.

High School Girls' Glee Club Rehearses

The Girls' Glee Club of the Piedmont high school held its regular rehearsal yesterday afternoon in the basement of the high school, Twelfth and Jefferson streets. The Glee Club is one of the most successful societies of the school and many talented young singers are members of that organization. It is an interesting school activity and is proving attractive to the girls of that institution.

The debating team of the school is continuing its work and although they are not preparing for any public debate at present, members of the team are working zealously on different subjects, so that they may be prepared to receive challenges when the time comes.

Among the members of the band are Robert Evans, Walter Peterson, Vernon Douglas, Robert Polson, Steele Michel, Howard Peletier, James Sloan, Hugh Allen, Joseph Benjamin and Tony Perry.

Fails in School; SHE SEEKS DEATH

NEW YORK.—Her failure in school work is blamed for an attempt at suicide by Florence Rumph, the eighteen-year-old daughter of Alfred D. Rumph, No. 52 Dodd street, Bloomingdale, N. Y. The girl is now in Mount Sinai Hospital, semi-clair, with a chance of recovery, as the result of taking carbolic acid.

Until a year ago the girl was of a cheerful disposition. She failed to pass her examination to enter the Bloomingdale high school last year, and although she only failed in one subject, or summer, was changed from that time. She was the only member of her class who failed to pass and she complained to her companions of the disgrace she felt. She did not attend school last year, and it is believed that the fact of the school opening again next Monday preoccupied her mind so she was temporarily deranged.

Before going to bed Monday night Miss Rumph told her mother good night with the usual kiss. Shortly after entering her room her mother heard the girl scream. On entering the room Mrs. Rumph found her daughter writhing in agony on her bed. An empty bottle that had contained carbolic acid was on the bed.

Dr. Frank W. Lockwood of East Orange was summoned, and after ministering to the girl had her removed to the hospital.

Condemn Unwritten Law

NEW ORLEANS.—Ministers of the gospel in New Orleans are severely condemning the "unwritten law" defense under which girls are shielding themselves in their wholesale slaughter of men whom they charge have wronged them and refused to marry them.

Rev. A. Gordon Backwell, rector of Trinity Chapel, one of the oldest and most distinguished ministers of the South, in a discourse last night condemned the "unwritten law" defense of Mamie McLaughlin, Hattie Fretsch and others who have recently murdered well-known men.

"There is no higher law than that which is on the statute books," said the venerable minister, "and the dignity and majesty of that law should be maintained at all hazards. It would have been better that the McLaughlin girl had been convicted of the murder of Hugh A. Smith in order that the law might have been vindicated and punishment inflicted for a crime of which she was undoubtedly guilty.

Then, after sentence, the patriotic women, in their humanitarian work, could very properly have appealed to the Governor for her pardon, and have wielded their power and influence for her release, but not until the law had been upheld."

Before going to bed Monday night Miss Rumph told her mother good night with the usual kiss. Shortly after entering her room her mother heard the girl scream. On entering the room Mrs. Rumph found her daughter writhing in agony on her bed. An empty bottle that had contained carbolic acid was on the bed.

Dr. Frank W. Lockwood of East Orange was summoned, and after ministering to the girl had her removed to the hospital.

GIRL BRIDE SEEKS DEATH

SALEM, Ore.—Despondent over her failure to find her husband, who she married but three days ago and whom she claims deserted her, Mrs. Daniel E. Barruff, 17 years old, attempted suicide on the lawn of Clyde Johnson, a prominent citizen by swallowing carbolic acid. She now lies at the point of death at the Salem hospital.

Mrs. Barruff is a daughter of Joseph Anderson, a farmer living east of Salem, and the marriage record at the courthouse shows a letter from her aged parents giving their consent to her marriage.

The young wife left home Thursday in search of her husband, who had deserted her immediately after the wedding. Officers are now searching for the husband, who is the son of a well-known man.

"There is no higher law than that which is on the statute books," said the venerable minister, "and the dignity and majesty of that law should be maintained at all hazards. It would have been better that the McLaughlin girl had been convicted of the murder of Hugh A. WOMEN IN THE NEWS

GIRL KILLED BY HER FIANCÉ ON EVE OF WEDDING

"Perhaps I'll Die Before I Wear My Robes," She Told Her Friends.

Abruzzi Broke Off Betrothal, Say Friends--Woman Is the Best Hobbler.

ST. LOUIS, Mo., Sept. 3.—Henry Hardy Markley, a matchmaker, recently from San Francisco, where his parents reside, Sunday night told off his dance. Miss Margaret Wurstin, with a revolver, however, declared that he had bought to protect her with. Her parents yesterday expressed their grief in Markley's explanation that the revolver was discharged accidentally while he was shooting his sweater at how to load and fire it. But the police are holding him pending the inquest.

Markley and Miss Winslow were to have been married two weeks from today. A few days ago when the young woman was completing the work on her wedding robe she jokingly remarked that she might die before she could wear them. "If I do I want to be buried in them," she told her mother.

Markley declares he bought the revolver for her to carry on her night trips home alone after the show at an East St. Louis moving picture theater where she was employed as pianist. According to attacks of the police station, Markley wept incessantly all night.

Blames Abruzzi

ROME, Sept. 13.—The Tribune, referring yesterday to the semi-official denial that the marriage of the Duke of Abruzzi and Miss Katherine Elkins had been arranged, declares "without fear of contradiction" that the couple gave full consent to the marriage, but that the Duke of Abruzzi himself broke off the match for personal reasons. A semi-official communication issued by an Italian agency yesterday says that the reports printed in Italy and abroad of the approaching marriage of the Duke of Abruzzi and Miss Katherine Elkins are absolutely baseless.

Hobbles the Best

NEW YORK, Sept. 13.—Mrs. Sarah Kline of Brooklyn will this week receive a tall silver cup and the "lunne" of the 1904-05 hobbles' championship of Greater New York.

A race for the trophy was a feature of the 1904-05 hobbles' championship of Greater New York.

The program announced to would-be contestants that "women desire to enter who were not equipped with hobbles and who did not hobbles, ropes until they are fully as unprepared as if dressed in the weight of a feather."

The winner covered the 10 yards with only seven tumbles. No time was taken.

MORE INDICTMENTS COMING IN CASE AGAINST BEEF TRUST

SPEEDY TRIAL DEMANDED BY OFFICIALS

Fail to Appear in Court When Case is Called—Lawyers Explain Absence

Bail Fixed at $30,000 Apiece. Government to Probe Deeper.

CHICAGO, Sept. 13.—It is expected that two more meat packers will be indicted by the Federal Grand Jury, which yesterday charged Chicago packers with conspiracy and illegal monopoly, and the government announced today its intention to force an early trial of all. The additional indictments it is intimated, will not come until the ten men already named have given bonds. Each must pay up $1,000 personal bond on each of the 12 indictments returned. Judge Landis decided:

The men indicted are:

L. F. Swift, president of Swift & Co.; Edward Swift, vice-president Swift & Co.

Charles H. Swift, director of Swift & Co.

Francis A. Fowler, director of Swift & Co.

Edward Tilden, president of the National Packing Company.

J. Ogden Armour, president of Armour & Co.

Arthur Meeker, general manager Armour & Co.

Thomas J. Connors, superintendent of Armour & Co.

Edward Morris, president of Morris & Co.

L. O. Heyman, manager of Morris & Co.

None of the men against whom presentations have been made was in court today when the matter of their arrest was brought up by Special Assistant United States District Attorney W. F. Wilcox.

ASKS FOR WARRANTS.

He asked that warrants be issued forthwith for the detention of the packers indicted. Attorney John S. Miller, senior counsel for the packers, explained the absence of the defendants.

"Two of the men are in Europe," he said, "and the others have their big business affairs to attend to. They are not ready to appear if they might be allowed permission to enter bonds for them. The clerk of court, unless your Honor insists on their appearance before you."

SUGGESTS $5000.

"What amount of bond would you suggest?" asked the escort.

"It is $5000 each five years ago and that is satisfactory," answered Attorney Miller.

The attorneys for the government objected, however, asking that it be made at least $10,000 on each of the three indictments, and that the packers' representatives assented.

Nothing was said in court as to when the defendants should appear to stand trial. United States District Attorney Edwin W. Sims said later that an effort would be made to have it as soon as possible.

"The attorneys for the government object to the trial of the packers within the next month," he said.

"The men later to be indicted were not kept secret with the government's attorneys. It is said one New York packer and another from Chicago were to be named."

No indictments in the alleged oleomargarine frauds are expected for several days.

Big Blow Struck at Men Accused of Law-Breaking

CHICAGO, Sept. 13.—In naming individuals who may be imprisoned as a punishment on conviction, instead of corporations which could only be fined and dissolved, the government in yesterday's indictments struck the most severe blow the alleged packers ever suffered. In its 12 indictments, the indictments far surpass the worst fears of the packers and probably exceeded the expectations of Judge K. M. Landis, who ordered the grand jury to bring down the most possible for the beef monopoly and its consequent high prices.

The first indictment charges a combination of the

in restraint of trade in fresh meat and consists of five separate counts with the charge of details of the close connection of the Armour, Morris and Swift packers through the National Packing Company, by the way, the go-between corporation, as to the way, the government is now seeking to dissolve by civil suit in the United States Circuit Court.

CHARGES CONSPIRACY.

The second indictment charges all of the necessary elements with conspiring in a combination in restraint of trade instead of combination. It consists of one count based on the same alleged facts as the first indictment.

The third indictment charges the ten packers with monopolizing trade in fresh meats by three illegal means, including the removal of all packers from the market.

By the Drexel-Morgan Company, by the simple expedient of buying up the stock until control was secured. This indictment likewise contains the same elements as the second, except that section 3 of the Sherman anti-trust law is a fine of not more than $5000 and imprisonment of not more than a year for each offense on the part of the accused packers within the last three years and the severest sort of punishment may be in store for the rich monarchs in store.

The present charges involve four packing concerns. These are only four out of 10 who are engaged in the packing business in the United States. The defendants do only about a third of the entire packing in this country.

Their entire profits are not over 2½ per cent of the total business.

Prejudice has arisen in the minds of many on account of the higher cost to the consumer of pork and beef products. These higher prices are wholly due to the higher cost of live stock. This is the growers of the country know-nothing about the packing business.

The July has been in almost continuous session since Sept. 14, and has examined more than 200 witnesses from all parts of the widespread territory covered by the Chicago beef companies. The judges gathered in their office, room on the second floor of the Federal building waiting for the final revision of the bills for their signatures.

WORK DONE CAREFULLY.

Meantime the government attorneys were making the new indictments as quickly as possible.

Three of the previous investigations found at the previous investigation of the packing concerns which involved only corporations, and the last indictment that there should be no fault assisted by Wilkerson, who told the bills were signed for signature.

At 5:15 he came from Sims' office with the 173 closely typewritten pages which made up the three indictments. The grand jurymen affixed their signatures and went in a body to Judge Landis' courtroom.

PROCEEDINGS BRIEF.

There proceedings were surprisingly brief, considering the importance of the matter; the court filed directly into the room. The panel of district attorneys spread themselves about the counsel table. There was not a single representative of the packing concerns in the usual seating of the bar.

Judge Landis, tall, spare, his keen eyes peering from under his brows, made of him a good-looking H. Bernard, the foreman of the grand jury:

"Has the grand jury something to report?"

"You have your honor."

"You may hand it to the clerk," said the judge.

The bulky roll of manuscript was handed to the clerk. Judge Landis did not even glance at it, although it was the culmination of a fight of several years to bring about a general public charge that there was a beef trust with headquarters in Chicago.

"Have you completed your labors?" asked the judge in the same low voice.

"We have not your honor," returned Foreman Bernard.

VICTORY WON IN LAND CASE

Government Succeeds in Getting Patents on 37 Claims Set Aside.

Largest Auction Sale Ever Offered to Take Place on Reservation.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 12.—The government scored an important victory in the United States District Court for Oregon when decisions were handed down yesterday setting aside patents on thirty-seven claims to timber lands aggregating 6,000 acres valued at more than $500,000, which were held by the C. A. Smith Lumber Company of Minnesota.

It was the telegram sent by Secretary Ballinger to former Field Agent G. R. Glavis of the General Land Office ordering him to suspend work on the Alaskan claims and take up the Oregon cases that formed the head of his charge that the head of the Interior Department was conspiring to allow the Cunningham coal claims to go to patent.

SUITS FILED IN 1908.

When suits were filed against these claims on May 28, 1908, the statute of limitations had only until June 4 to run, but the government delayed until that date it would have had no case and it was doubted at the time, according to the land office officials, where the government had not already deferred action too long.

There was no statute running against the Alaska claims at that time.

TO AUCTION LANDS.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 13.—What is declared to be the largest auction sale of lands ever offered at one time will take place on the Crow (Mont.) and the Uintah (Utah) Indian Reservations on October 1st and November 1st, respectively.

About 1,500,000 acres of land, suitable principally for dry farming and grazing, are involved in the sale, which was ordered by the President and the Secretary of the Interior, under directions from Congress.

The lands on the Crow Reservation, which amount to about $80,000,000, will be sold at Billings, Montana, at not less than $2 per acre, one-fifth payable in cash and the remainder to be paid in four annual installments to bear interest. The Uintah lands, approximating 700,000 acres, will be sold at Provo, Utah, at not less than 50 cents an acre, entire payment to be made in cash.

BUSINESSMEN TO AIR GRIEVANCES

Merchants Will Appear Before Board of Railroad Commissioners.

People who have any grievance against any of the railroad companies having terminals in this city may air the same at the Oakland Chamber of Commerce on the morning of Monday, September 28, for the reason that the State Board of Railroad Commissioners has announced that it will hold a meeting here at that time.

This is the second time that a gathering of this kind has been held in this city. It has been inspired with the hope of bringing the commissioners closer to the receivers and shippers of goods and also to hear any complaints which business men and manufacturers may make against the railroads in the matter of unfavorable rates or services.

On the occasion of the last meeting there were no shippers on hand with complaints and, indeed, there were but few merchants of the elite who took interest enough in the matter to put in an appearance.

The commissioners, however, had scarcely departed when the secretary of the chamber of commerce was bombarded with letters, including even the commissioners would again put in an appearance.

Secretary Johnson of the chamber in question declares that he hopes business men and manufacturers who have some grievances against the railroads which may be attended to by the board in question, will be on hand when the commissioners again put in an appearance.

Improvements in Oakland

Dredging of Tidal Waters Fronting on Site of Livingston-Street Wharf Completed as Step in Harbor Improvement

The first contract for the improvement of the water front of Oakland harbor for the benefit of commerce, under the bond issue, has been completed, the San Francisco Bridge Company having finished the dredging of tidal waters fronting on the site of the Livingston street wharf at the upper end of Brooklyn basin at a uniform depth of 22 feet at ordinary high tide.

The Cotton Brothers have the contract for the construction of the wharf proper and they have been notified that everything is in readiness for them to proceed with the work. The board of public works, sitting as the harbor commission, will formally approve the fulfillment of the dredging contract at tomorrow's session when the coast will be clear for the Cotton Brothers to carry out their contract.

The new wharf will be the first actually permanent structure of the kind erected at any point on the Pacific Coast Wharves which were supposed to be permanently erected on the San Francisco water front have not so far proved to be such. Two elements have been the means of producing unsatisfactory results. One of these was dishonesty in the construction of the concrete piers. The other is lack of a stable foundation along the San Francisco waterfront to support the concrete piers, as the piles constituting the foundation of the piers are driven into bottomless mud and sustained solely by mud suction.

All along the waterfront of Oakland harbor and along the eastern bay shore line a substratum of hard pan exists which furnishes a perfect foundation for all classes of quay and wharf improvements can be built with positive assurance of their permanency.

LEAGUE ASKS WORKHOUSE FOR CHILDREN DESERTERS

Child's Welfare Association Endorses Political Platform That Provides More Safeguards for Little Ones

Calling attention to the Oregon and Washington, D. C., laws covering the points, the Child's Welfare League of Alameda County, in session yesterday afternoon at the Hotel St. Francis, recommended that a political platform, one of the principal planks of which is that asking for a state workhouse for men who have deserted their children, should be adopted for them. "Society men should pay a dollar a day," says the platform.

The platform adopted covers ten points as follows:

"More probation officers in Alameda County. The present number, five, is utterly inadequate.

"The state workhouse for men who desert their children or fail to provide for them.

"The enforcement of laws prohibiting the sale of liquor to minors under 18 years of age, and the sale of tobacco to those under 16 years.

"The censorship of public amusements, including theaters, moving pictures and circuses, by a competent board of censors.

"The enactment and enforcement of curfew ordinances; first, fixing the hour of 10 o'clock, and second, making parents and guardians responsible for children's violations of these ordinances, and third, requiring the five fire in each district to be rung at the curfew hour.

"The county school attendance officer, that this compulsory education law may be enforced in the smaller towns as well as in the larger cities.

"The San Francisco City Council, for a separate state training school for girls with women as superintendent.

"The demand of the California

Progressives for the establishment of playgrounds under competent supervision, with recreation centers in every school district and larger school districts, and similar playgrounds.

"We endorse the demand of the Bay Federation of Mothers' Clubs for the larger use of the public buildings and grounds by all the people for educational and recreational purposes.

"We endorse the demand of the Republican and Democratic platforms for an adequate pension for boys and young men from 16 to 20 years of age."

The question of entering the Federation of Women's Clubs of the county was delayed a week and consideration was given to the fact that the committee comprised of Mrs. T. A. Pedlar, Mrs. Ida Carson and Mrs. A. Weber.

ECZEMA TOTALLY COVERED HIS FACE

When a Baby—Hair All Came Out—Always Scratching—Mother Got Cuticura and He was Cured After 3 Years of Disease.

"My son was about four months old when he was taken with dreadful eczema. I had four different doctors, but they could not help him. The hair all came out and his face was totally covered. His eyes were shut and we thought he would go blind. His hands were also affected. He was always scratching. I had to keep his little hands tied down and he seemed to have a great deal of pain. We did not know what to do. I used to get sick handling him, from the way he would scratch. I got some Cuticura Soap and Ointment and within a week or ten days I could see the eruption drying up and before long it was cured, after about three years of the terrible disease. Now he is nineteen years old and has not lost an iota of the old trouble. You see, I learned to use three quarters of the doctors' bills by using Cuticura Soap and Ointment and I will recommend either to any one and advise them to use them and receive a safe, speedy cure. Mrs. Catherine Mocklin, Dock St., Royalton, Pa., Feb. 10, 1910.

Cuticura is the most popular treatment for the disfiguring afflictions of the skin of infants, children and adults. A single can of Cuticura Soap and box of Cuticura Ointment often cures.

MASTERLY BASEBALL BY OAKS LANDS THEM AT TOP OF RACE

Old Hike Is Invincible in the Box, While the Rest of Team Play National Game in Faultless Style and Manner

By BERT LOWRY.

Oakland 2, Portland 0.

Right was the man that said "To the victor belongs the spoils" so great is Jack Lively to the fans of Oakland, or it is him that brought victory to the locals in the final and deciding game of the series with the Beavers over at Recreation Park yesterday afternoon by a score of 2 to 0 and made it possible for the Wolverine Braves to say "WE ARE THE LEADERS."

Never more let us hear the Oaks called boneheads, rubberheads. Don't say that they can't play ball, and above all things don't say that they are not the gamest, pluckiest bunch of sphere chasers that ever trod the diamonds of the Pacific Coast League. Saturday morning they walked out on the ball field at Fremont Park, with a series record of two and two won, with hardly a scratch to denote them, one good sleep at the starting gate, and a gain from the Beavers, unless it be by Jack Lively. No one could be found that would acknowledge that they would be anywhere near the top, let alone be on the top today. It is now history how the Oaks undeniably went after those fighting Beavers, at least as far as banner in the dust twice in one day. While those games are not forgotten, it is the one of yesterday that brings the flush of pride to the Oaks, for grittily, faultlessly and steadily they beat down the Beavers and this day are leaders of the Pacific Coast League.

To Jack Lively it does nearly all the credit, for he with grit edge support behind him outshined and outgamed the great and much heralded New Gregg, pride and honor of all the Beavers. The Beavers will now know that the Oaks were under three hits and the Oaks but one; but that was of little consequence Gregg, all the time, even with his sanctity of hits was in hot water, while Old Hike ran along like the well oiled old farm pump, sending up the benders and twisters like a machine, and never once during all these nine innings was he in distress and for the first time in many, many games, Wilberton did not have a man warm up down on the side lines.

BRILLIANTLY THE OAKS SUPPORTED LIVELY.

Back of Lively every man on the Oaks team that had a thing to do in that game did it well. To pick out one man that when above the other would be a hard task, True Cutsaw cut off a hit or two around second base and Wares played grand ball at short. Cameron was over on the job and sometimes when

HOW THE GAME WAS WON AND LOST.

With the bitterness of these two days of the day previous still hanging the teste, Budie Binn went to the bat determined to do or die. He did, for Wares took his dives with elegance and grace and whumped him out at first by a dozen et. Olson followed the centerfielder and was out in a peccary play. Taking swing at the ball he hit it slightly and struck it off his feet, the ball striking his left foot and rolling fair. Lively seized it up and winged it to first and homey after consulting Van Hulzen, Abel Olson out. Kruger next in, being the ball walloped and it started for first field like a bullet and the Portland men let forth a yell but it was soon a lesson, for Cutsaw cut across the diamond like a shot, grabbed the ball and tagged Artie out at first.

For the Oaks it was Maggart that started the drama. With two strikes Maggart hit his first Gregg and he fasted to work and to end on one side into the back, beat the ball to first. It being the only hit glorified Gregg. Like a dash Maggart tore for second and his mother side was safe. Sooth, Maggart's go was so he leaped to his feet and set it to third, reaching here in safety. The second round while Gregg got the ball over another place but over the plate and after four such performances like as Clegg was tickled to first. Hogan following hit safely towards Tommieshian. While he was throwing Willie out at first Maggart was sliding into the plate. Wares getting to second Cameron was over anxious and waited, but Weller got a piece of the ball, a gentle joke to Olson. For the third time during the series Olson plucked up the ball and tossed it away, Wares reaching for the ball. Cutsaw walked but Monte Pfeiffer sharply to Olson and was caught out at the initial sack. Never after that was there a talk in the game for Lively was going too good and the Oaks didn't really need them.

BEAVERS GET THREE HITS; BUT THEY ARE USELESS.

Olson glommed the first single off Lively in the fourth inning but was winged out trying to get a living start on Lively, Jack throwing to Cameron, who in turn whopped the ball to Cutsaw in time to

FRANK MILLER WINS AGAIN FROM HENRY BERRY'S HIRED MEN

Seals' Husky Pitcher Has Good Control and Hurls Great Game of Ball.

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 13.—The Angels had little or no chance to beat Frank Miller yesterday afternoon so good was the Seals' star pitcher going. Every time he sent up to the plate seemed to have something extra on it, the locals getting but three hits and scoring many runs.

Castillon was in the box for the Angels. He allowed but five hits and gave but one base on balls, yet he was but ten most decisively, the cause for the lacking being some very rank fieldings.

Two of the Seals' runners were scored on runs, while the third, tall insight have prevented Fred Murphy producing a little ginger at the eighth moment.

HAY SHIPMENTS
BREAK ALL RECORDS

Estuary Presents Busy Scene
When Big Scows Unload at Local Docks.

Large shipments of hay continue to enter the estuary for discharge at various local docks. Reports indicate that this will be a record-breaking year for such caravans, most of which come in from the upper bay. The scows Sophie E and Paul N. Woods left yesterday in tow of the tug Pirate for Point Macdonald with a cargo for L. C. Scallings.

Lumber shippers also continue to arrive with western logs, receipts being brought in by the steamship L. C. Macdale with a cargo from Coos Bay, also the steam schooners Redondo and Commodore from the same place.

The St. Helena scow steamer, belonging to the Hawaiian Transportation Company, came in with a massive laneous cargo from bay points. The boat is used chiefly in transporting materials about the bay.

TO OVERHAUL LAUNCH.

The launch Ceres, Captain Stanley, which was beached by the Dixie several days ago in a pulling contest, is to be hauled over and placed in the launching trough at the end of the river. It will be used as a tow boat for lumber and fishing scows taking them back and forth between the bay and points on the Sacramento river.

The Amble Litta, a river schooner, is tied up at the city wharf with a cargo of wood for the James P. Taylor Company.

The tug Dixie towed the dredge Mankee up the creek yesterday where it will be used on some work on the Alameda side of the estuary.

The steamer Kaituna was towed up the estuary to the Alaska Packers wharf yesterday by the company's tug. The ship will take its place along with the rest of the salmon fleet.

IMPROVE PIER.

The work of installing new gearing in the center pier of the Webster street bridge was completed yesterday, and the structure may now be turned clear about as usual. While the work was going on it was possible to turn in one direction only, which necessitated a loss of time to persons desiring to cross.

Other repairs will probably be done in the near future, which will include painting of the entire pier, and the placing of a new coating at a large cost, but made no scars for the pier's safety or the bridge against the elements.

The Manchuria was scheduled to leave Honolulu last Saturday, but, detained in quarantine at Yokohama on account of sickness among the steerage passengers, caused a loss of three days. Only about a day of this time can be made up for the Manchuria is not fast and she has considerable freight for Honolulu.

On board the Manchuria is Prince Teal Tsun, brother of the Prince Teal of China, and the little 11-year-old Prince Teal Tsun, a son of the Chinese Prince Teal Tsun. The liner is accompanied by Admiral S. T. The liner is a retinue of officials and servants with them and will be received by special representatives of the government in this country, who will escort him to Washington. The brother of the Prince Teal is Prince Teal Tsun, the cousin under chief of the Chinese army who left this country a month ago.

The Homer brought William F. McComber, the mate and two members of the crew of the schooner, who were given sea leave.

The Homer reported seeing the little steamer Arctic at 3 a.m. on September 8th, north northwest of Point R. V. with all well on board. Pays Big Head Tax for Deserting Sailors

PORTLAND Sept. 1.—Before his steamer the Asia Maru No. 50, said at noon yesterday for Shanghai, the captain of the vessel, a Japanese, Inspector Barbour $4.1 and tax, the six Japanese members of the crew who deserted while the ship was in port when he arrived here Inspector Barbour informed a member of the company on the Otaru Maru No. 2 who was a passenger on her that he expected that she was carrying a large crew than the crew was nothing more than passengers who planned to come ashore and remain in the United States. This is done to evade the regulations governing steamers carrying passengers as there is no law to exclude Japanese. The Otaru Maru took out about 300,000 feet of lumber dispatched by the Pacific Export Lumber Company.

The Columbia river bar is in the best condition ever known and is capable of accommodating the largest vessels in the Pacific coast, in the statement of Captain William Kidston, master of the Beaver, which arrived yesterday from San Diego.
